Value of the Akouphone Illustrated in an interesting manner by means of Talk on Top From a Piano Wire. Effects of Peter Cooper Hewitt's New Light.

With such hearty welcome as "the Wizard of Oz" received when he entered the lecture room of Harvard hall, at Columbia university, the other night, says the New York Herald.

When the transmitter is spoken into, it acts as a tap on the battery, raising currents of varying strength in proportion to the strength of the sound waves to pass through the electro-magnet.

After the steel spiral is filled, which operation takes about 30 seconds and permits the recording of 100 to 120 words, the tiny magnet is placed in its original position and connected with a Bell receiving telephone.

of the engineering building exhibited light cables, or vapor. One large tubular lamp of 1000 candle power lighted the room, using 115 volt current.

On the third floor of the engineering building Mr. H. Hutchinson exhibited the akouphone and the akoulalon, the microphonetic instruments of his invention, by means of which he makes the deaf hear. A class from the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb were present to illustrate the value of the akouphone.

THE PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN. Luxurious Cars Provided For Coming Trip Across the Continent.

The train in which President McKinley and his cabinet will cross the continent on their trip is a marvel of luxury. It will consist, according to a Chicago dispatch to the New York Times, of two sleeping, a dining and a composite car containing a baggage room and baggage compartment.

The smoking room is 21 feet in length, fitted with upholstered chairs, lounges, secretary, cabinets and library. A buffet is also provided.

As to the cost of the train, that depends upon many conditions that it would be impossible for me to tell. It depends largely upon the cost of the engine, which embraces the quarrying and hauling. The cost of hauling depends upon the condition of the stone in the quarry.

AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM IMPROVED. The American educational system is being improved, says the New York Herald.

When Andrew Carnegie was planning his new mansion on the highlands of Fifth avenue in New York with his architect, he insisted that he wanted not a garden, but a park surrounding the structure.
